International Collaboration Between Venn Design Solutions and Blackfish Engineering

Venn Design Solutions are pleased to announce an international collaboration with Blackfish Engineering, based in the UK.

Blackfish Engineering are an experienced marine energy design consultancy, who have significant in-depth experience in design, analysis, build & test projects in the European marine energy sector.

Venn Design Solutions look forward to offering access to Blackfish's expertise in Canada, which enhances Venn Design Solutions' own offerings across the renewable energy and storage sector. In turn, Venn Design Solution's system and storage experience will help expand Blackfish Engineering's capabilities in the European market.

With the continued growth of the marine energy sector in Canada and the need to explore energy storage solutions for renewable energy, we believe this partnership uniquely positions Venn Design Solutions and Blackfish Engineering to meet the industry's needs moving forward.
